Abstract

Disclosed are compositions and methods for managing databases. Methods and systems for managing biological databases. The methods and systems can comprise creation, organization, and presentation of biological databases. The biological databases can be created using data obtained from a plurality of other databases and periodically updated. An executive summary can be created for a biological sequence using the biological database.

893220 17